What is the European Citizens' Initiative?

The European Citizens' Initiative is a unique way for citizens to help shape the EU by calling on the European Commission to propose new laws. European citizens' initiative organisers have one year to collect 1 million signatures across the EU, meeting national thresholds in at least 7 Member States. Once an initiative has reached the required number of signatures, the Commission will decide on what action to take.

Help us spread the word!

To increase the number of citizens' initiatives and the level of participation and engagement of citizens, the European Citizens' Initiative needs to be known to all Europeans. To this end, the European Commission encourages interested actors to get involved and bring the European Citizens' Initiative to light. You can get involved in spreading the word on the European Citizens' Initiative by using your voice to promote the tool among your network.

The influence of social media nowadays is undeniable and it can really help raise awareness about the European Citizens' Initiative. Below are some handy tips on how to best promote the European Citizens' Initiative through your social media channels.
