Stop Vivisection

The number of European citizens' initiatives that have successfully reached the required number of support statements for the European Commission to take action, continues to grow. Some have resulted in new legislation, while others have had other meaningful results. All of them have built networks around issues and raised awareness among both citizens and policy-makers.

“The ultimate aim of EU legislation is to phase out all animal testing. In response to the citizens' initiative, the European Commission is taking a number of actions to enable faster progress in the uptake and use of alternative approaches.”
